ENGLISH-FRENCH DIVISION.

For the explanation of the Abbreviations used in the English-French Division, see pages xxiv, xxv.

— indicates the repetition of the English word.

Words in parentheses serve to complete the sense of those words that precede or follow them.

When two or more French nouns of the same gender follow, their gender is indicated after the last noun only.

The pronunciation of English words is indicated, in the English-French Division, in the same manner as that of French words in the French-English division, and represented in all cases by means of the French spelling, with the exception of :

1st, th hard,	which is expressed by (th);
2d, th soft,	“ “ (th);
3d, g , when hard before e , i , or y ,	by (gh).

⊙ Indicates obsolete French words.

(ant.) Indicates obsolete English words.
